The Chancellor recommended that Dr. E. Dean Anderson, Vice President for University Relations, be designated as Acting Dean of the School of Education, at a salary rate of $32,400, during the period in which a new dean is being selected. He indicated the salary increase for the additional duties exceeds five percent and required Board approval.

The Board approved the recommendation as presented.

The Board voted to dispense with the reading of the minutes of the last regular meeting held on July 23 and August 28, 1974, and approved them as previously distributed.

The Chancellor said the Board had concluded there was a need for a more thorough review and study of the Oregon State University Cooperative Extension Service and had asked President MacVicar and the Chancellor to develop a proposal for the study.

The Chancellor recommended the Board approve creation of a statewide committee, similar to that created a few years ago, to undertake a review of the Cooperative Extension with special attention to the following study objectives:

1. To project Oregon's needs for extension educational programs through the next decade.
2. To assess the current capability to meet those needs and to recommend where appropriate the allocation of the resources and, as needed, expanded resources, to meet the needs.
3. To assess the current relationship with other local, state and federal agencies, especially the community colleges.
4. To analyze the current administrative control structure at the county, district, state, and university level.
5. To report the findings and make recommendations to the Board.

The Chancellor indicated that if the proposal were approved, then consideration would be given to persons who might appropriately serve on the statewide committee.

Mr. Westerdahl said he was opposed to the study because he believed it would result in strong proposals for the expenditure of additional resources rather than suggesting better ways of utilizing existing resources or identifying supplementary resources other than General Fund support.

Mrs. Johnson said she was concerned with the present and long-term rationale for the Federal Cooperative Extension Service and its various programs. She said she would not envision the study necessarily as a forum for developing new programs unless old ones were being replaced.

President MacVicar said the committee might reach the conclusion that additional resources could be used wisely although that would not be the objective of the study. He said he believed there would be some significant opportunities for improvement of existing programs and wiser use of existing resources.

The Board approved the recommendation as presented. Mr. Westerdahl and Mr. Haden voted against the motion. It was understood that the main focus of the study should be on the best use of existing resources.
Staff Report to the Board

Based upon the unanimous recommendation of the University of Oregon’s Building Names Committee, institutional officials propose that the new Administrative Services Building be named Oregon Hall. Although this name was used many years ago to identify a classroom building at the northeast corner of 13th and Kincaid, it was discontinued during the 1950’s when this structure and the former Commerce Hall were incorporated within the major building complex identified as Commonwealth Hall.

In commenting upon the recommendation, Vice President Hawk indicated that “We felt Oregon Hall would be appropriate in its simplicity, descriptive as to the school, and non-controversial when it involves naming a building which has many differing functions.” He mentioned that a number of institutions, such as the University of Illinois, have designated their principal administrative building with a name common to the school. For the campus in Eugene, it was noted that the appropriate identification of such a structure would be Oregon Hall.

Staff Recommendation to the Board

It was recommended that the new Administrative Services Building at the University of Oregon be named Oregon Hall.

Board Discussion and Action

The Board approved the recommendation as presented.

Staff Report to the Board

As reported to the Board at the July 23, 1974, meeting, Architects Daniel, Mann, Johnson & Henderson/Hilton of Portland were commissioned to provide professional services for the proposed Ophthalmology Clinic Expansion in the Teaching Hospital at the University of Oregon Medical School. The project was included as Priority No. 19 within the listing of educational and general plant projects in the Board’s capital construction requests for 1973-1975, and an expenditure limitation of $315,000 was approved for it by the 1973 Legislature.

Institutional officials and the project architects have filed with the Board’s Office a copy of the schematic design for the addition and minor remodeling. Consistent with the program for the addition, the design proposes to provide approximately 3,563 square feet of gross area in new construction on the tenth floor of the Teaching Hospital, which is presently the roof deck of the East Wing. Construction is to be of concrete and steel in order not to impair the present vertical expansion capacity of the East Wing. The exterior appearance and the interior finishes are to match those of the existing building.

This new space, adjacent to the Adult and Children’s Eye Clinics, would permit the expansion of facilities which are presently overcrowded. Approximately 2,000 square feet of the new area would be occupied by a new Children’s Eye Clinic and Center, to be identified with the Elk’s Vision for the Future Program which has provided extensive financial support to the Medical School. Three rooms at the south side of the new space would be occupied by photographic, optics, prosthetics and instrument laboratories. Five examining rooms, two staff offices, two waiting rooms, a Visual Fields room, a dark room, a nurse’s station and a utility room comprise the use of the remainder of the space. Minor remodeling within the existing tenth floor area provides staff access and connection with the existing clinic spaces.

Escalated to January 1975, when bids are expected to be called, the direct construction costs are estimated by the project architects to be $232,300. The remainder of the expenditure limitation of $315,000 relates to professional services, construction supervision, furnishings and equipment, miscellaneous costs and a contingency reserve. All of the funds required would be provided from gifts and grants. No state tax funds are to be used for this project.
Staff Recommendation to the Board

It was recommended that the schematic design phase of planning for the Ophthalmology Clinic Expansion at the University of Oregon Medical School be approved and that the appropriate Board officials be authorized to instruct the project architects to prepare the design development and construction documents phases of planning, solicit bids and award a construction contract within the total project budget of $315,000, subject to the approval of the State Emergency Board.

Board Discussion and Action

In response to a question, Mr. Hunderup indicated that construction costs are high at the present time but that part of the square foot cost for this project is due to the fact the additions are on the tenth floor. This makes access to the site less convenient and increases costs.

The Board approved the recommendations as presented.

Staff Recommendation

It was recommended that pursuant to Board action of March 28, 1972, a quasi-endowment be established for the University of Oregon Medical School and also for the Doernbecher Memorial Hospital for Children in accordance with AR 64.072, since the bequest is in excess of $10,000.

Naming of Administration Building, UOHS

In view of the action of the Faculty Council of the University of Oregon Medical School on September 5, 1974, institutional officials have submitted a recommendation to name the Administration Building on the Marquam Hill campus the "David W. E. Baird Hall" in recognition of the tremendous contribution which Dr. Baird made to medical education in Oregon prior to his death on July 28, 1974. (By formal resolution at its meeting on August 28, the Board recalled to memory some of the highlights of service which Dr. Baird rendered to the Medical School during a period of 50 years or so, including 26 years as dean of the institution.)

Staff Recommendation to the Board

It was recommended that the Administration Building at the University of Oregon Medical School be named David W. E. Baird Hall.

Board Discussion and Action

The Board approved the recommendation as presented.

(Considered by Committee on Finance, Administration and Physical Plant, August 28, 1974; present--Westerdahl, Corey, McIntyre, Snider.)

Conceptual Study of Student Union Facilities, OSU

On May 22, 1973, the Board was advised that arrangements had been made with Architects Jeppsen, Miller & Tobias of Corvallis to assist in determining the feasibility and extent of possible alterations to Snell Hall, a residence hall and cafeteria at Oregon State University, for student union purposes, supplementing areas within the Memorial Union Building. The Board authorized the rededication of the cafeteria unit as of July 1, 1973, so that the food service areas there could be utilized effectively, without major remodeling, as part of the student union operation. Student building fees were allocated to meet the debt service requirements of approximately $19,174 applicable to the cafeteria during each of the two fiscal years of the current biennium.

Subsequently, on July 25, 1974, as part of the capital construction program for auxiliary enterprises during 1975-1977, the Board included $3,160,000 for the proposed student union facilities, principally the remodeling of Snell Hall and Cafeteria. It was noted that this amount excluded the intramural transfer which would be required upon the permanent rededication of the buildings from housing to student union use. Based upon the guidelines approved by the Board on September 26, 1972, and assuming that the 1975 Legislature approves the Board's request for the project, it is estimated that this transfer would be in the amount of approximately $802,900. Following rededication, the institution's housing operations would be relieved of debt service requirements applicable to these buildings and all remaining principal and interest payments on the self-liquidating bonds outstanding would be met from commingled student building fees or other sources available for union operations.

Institutional officials and the project architects have filed with the Board's Office a copy of their study for the conversion of Snell Hall and Cafeteria and have outlined also the proposed revisions to the Memorial Union Building which would be undertaken in a subsequent biennium following the completion of work in Snell Hall. The program anticipates that the various social, recreational and cultural activities would continue to be concentrated in the Memorial Union Building, the principal meeting place for organizations, short courses and conferences. It would also continue to provide major food service for the campus, house banquet facilities and provide supportive services for general campus use such as the bookstore, post office, printing services, recreation activities, barbershop, equipment rentals, and possibly a small area devoted to banking services if appropriate arrangements can be made. The business office for revenue-producing operations and student activities, which include the major budget areas of the Memorial Union, Educational Activities and Physical Recreation, would continue to be accommodated within the Memorial Union Building. Some of the remodeling to be undertaken would be required to make the building accessible to the physically handicapped and to provide a better meeting room for the ASOSU Senate and other groups.

In order to provide more adequate space for the student activities staff, student organization offices, program planning and service facilities for student publications and other communications (broadcast) media, as well as improved and enlarged areas for arts and crafts, it is proposed to remodel in 1975-1977 all of the ground, first and second floors of Snell Hall and to construct an addition of approximately 12,760 square feet near the west end of the north wing. The remainder of the dormitory unit, namely the top three floors, would continue to serve as a residence hall for students over twenty-one years of age, possibly under contract arrangements with the Housing Department. The cafeteria would provide food services for these residents as well as other students, faculty, staff and campus visitors.

The conceptual studies prepared by the architects anticipate that the lowest level of the east wing of Snell Hall would house the craft shops, including pottery, lapidary, photography and general shop activities. It would also provide laundry and storage room for the residents. The first (main) floor of this wing would be used for offices and workrooms for the student newspaper and literary magazine, and the second floor would accommodate offices for the student broadcast media as well as the studios for their radio station.

The remodeled area within the north wing of Snell Hall would provide student activities offices and a lounge on the first floor, meeting rooms of various sizes on both the first and second floors and space for the staff of the yearbook on the second floor also. The proposed new addition would extend into the courtyard which now exists between the residence hall unit and the cafeteria. The first floor would contain additional student activities offices, integrated with those planned at that level in the existing building, as well as the two studios, service and storage areas for the student operated television station. A partial lower floor, below grade, would house TV operations and control functions and this portion of the building's mechanical equipment.

The principal entrance to the student activities areas within the Snell Hall complex would be near the northwest corner of the addition, thus enhancing circulation and emphasizing the relationship of this area to the Memorial Union Building. New stairways would be constructed to link the areas of the addition with the lower floor levels of the existing building. Because of the structural system of the residence hall, which was a lift-slab building, it is possible to remove some of the present partitions to develop larger spaces, but many of the existing interior walls would be retained. Out of the total gross area of 67,645 square feet within Snell Hall, approximately 27,960 square feet would be remodeled. As noted above, the proposed addition would contain about 12,760 square feet. The cafeteria area of 23,887 square feet would be refurbished and redecorated, but only minor remodeling is contemplated in that portion of the project.

Based upon the price level expected to prevail early in 1976, when bids for the remodeling of Snell Hall could be taken following the completion of planning and appropriate authorization by the Legislature, it is estimated that the direct construction costs would be approximately $1,976,700. The total estimated requirements for the student union facilities project are $2,715,000, including not only the direct construction costs but also the professional services fees, furnishings and equipment, construction supervision, Physical Plant and miscellaneous costs, contingencies, etc.

Staff Recommendation to the Committee

It was recommended that:

1. the conceptual study for the conversion of Snell Hall and Cafeteria to student union use, and the proposed related future remodeling of the Memorial Union Building, be approved;

2. the appropriate Board officials be authorized to instruct the architects to proceed with the schematic design and design development phases of planning for the work to be undertaken during 1975-1977, and if the estimated expenditure requirements are determined upon the completion of such planning to be less than the sum of $5,160,000 being requested within the capital construction program for auxiliary enterprises in 1975-1977, advice would be provided to the Executive Department and the Legislature to revise the expenditure limitation downward;

3. conditional upon legislative authorization for the remodeling project, Snell Hall and Cafeteria be rededicated from housing to student union use effective July 1, 1975, and final plans and specifications be prepared, bids solicited and contract awards made for the proposed remodeling and addition.

Discussion and Recommendation by the Committee

In response to questions during the discussion, Mr. Hunderup indicated:

1. The proposed conversion and remodeling would not generate new revenues. The funds required for the project will be an obligation against student building fees.

2. Students have been involved extensively in the planning presented in the conceptual study as have other groups which may ultimately use the facilities.

3. Approval of this project would not affect six auxiliary enterprise projects which are higher in priority because these projects are primarily utility improvements that involve minor amounts from the auxiliary enterprise category, with the major funding to come from the Education and General Plant category.

4. Funds transferred as a result of the conversion from housing to student union purposes will be used primarily to meet debt service requirements.

5. If possible, an elevator would be installed within the Memorial Union Building as part of the project in 1975-1977.

The Committee recommended that the Board approve the recommendations as presented.

Board Discussion and Action

The Board approved the recommendations as presented. It was indicated the Attorney General's opinion on use of General Fund monies for student union purposes had not been received.

Preliminary Plans for Additional Housing at Yaquina Bay Marine Science Center, OSU

(Considered by Committee on Finance, Administration and Physical Plant, August 28, 1974; present--Westerdahl, Corey, McIntyre, Snider.)

Staff Report to the Committee

Cut of the expenditure limitation of $165,000 which the 1969 Legislature authorized for Yaquina Bay Marine Science Center Improvements, only $70,800 was encumbered for the planning and construction of the first four apartments, now identified as Li House.

It is proposed to develop additional student housing in a dormitory-type arrangement to accommodate approximately 32 students participating in instructional and/or research programs at the Center on a short-term basis. The planning for these facilities has been done with the assistance of Architects Hadlett, Janison, Atkinson & Lucy, Portland, under the provisions of a supplement to their earlier professional services agreement.
In accordance with the site plan reviewed with the Board on January 24, 1972, when the schematic design for the initial housing project was approved, the dormitory unit would be located adjacent to the southeast corner of Li House. The one-story wood-frame structure would be similar to the first unit in design character (wood siding, hip roof, aluminum sash and possibly a wood deck). The space plan reflects quadrants of approximately 408 square feet, each containing a sleeping room for eight students, locker areas, entry, toilet and shower areas.

It is estimated that the direct construction costs of the dormitory would be approximately $46,200, averaging about $28.31 per square foot for the estimated gross area of 1,632 square feet. To assure reasonably the receipt of bids within the resources available, it is likely that a bid alternate would be provided for lowering the structure to grade level, possibly omitting the exterior deck.

Approximately half of the estimated total project budget of $60,000 would be financed from gifts through the Oregon State University Foundation, Inc., and the remainder would be provided from self-liquidating bond borrowings under Article XI-F(1) of the Oregon Constitution and/or from balances available from housing operations.

Staff Recommendation to the Committee

It was recommended that the preliminary plans for the proposed Housing Unit II, a dormitory-type building to accommodate about 32 students at the Yaquina Bay Marine Science Center, be approved and that the appropriate Board officials be authorized to instruct the project architects to complete the plans and specifications thereof so that bids can be solicited and a contract award made for construction within an expenditure limitation of $60,000 subject to approval by the State Emergency Board. The project costs would be financed from a combination of gifts to be received from the Oregon State University Foundation, Inc., Article XI-F(1) bond proceeds and/or balances available from student housing operations.

Deeding of Property to City of Corvallis, OSU

(Considered by Committee on Finance, Administration and Physical Plant, August 28, 1974; present--Westerdahl, Corey, McIntyre, Snider.)

Staff Report to the Committee

Following extensive negotiations with the City of Corvallis, Oregon State University officials propose deeding to the City approximately 3.6 acres of land within the South Farm near the intersection of U. S. Highway 20 and Southwest Brooklane Drive in order to assist in the City's plan to straighten and realign Southwest Brooklane Drive. This improvement would be of benefit to the institution.

Some background information may be helpful.

In accordance with authorization granted to the president and secretary of the Board under Section 70.021 of the Administrative Rules, an easement was granted to the City on September 7, 1975, for a permanent right-of-way across a portion of the South Farm along Southwest Brooklane Drive. Subsequently, the City installed a water line within the area of the easement at no cost to the University.

The City plans to straighten and realign portions of Southwest Brooklane Drive, including the section which abuts the South Farm. It is proposed that a tract of 3.6 acres of land, including the area covered by the recent easement as well as a portion of Squaw Creek which parallels Southwest Brooklane Drive, be deeded to the City for this purpose. Institutional officials have advised that this property is of little value because of frequent flooding. It has been appraised at $300. By relinquishing title to it, the Board would be relieved of responsibility for approximately 1,200 feet of frontage on Southwest Brooklane Drive. The Board would, however, have financial responsibility for the improvement of approximately 513 feet of frontage remaining in its ownership north of the Squaw Creek crossing of the Drive.

The arrangements contemplate that the Board would reserve the right to install and maintain necessary drainage, water and sewer facilities across the property and also would retain rights of ingress and egress to Southwest Brooklane Drive at two locations. Except for the easterly portions to be utilized for roadway realignment, the City would maintain the property as a greenway.

Staff Recommendation to the Committee

It was recommended that the president and secretary of the Board be authorized to execute a deed and such other agreements as may be appropriate to transfer to the City of Corvallis title to a tract of approximately 3.6 acres of land adjacent to Southwest Brooklane Drive in the South Farm at Oregon State University and establish the respective responsibilities of the City and the Board in making the proposed improvements to the roadway. It was understood that the form of the documents would be reviewed and approved by the Board's attorney prior to execution.

Discussion and Recommendation by the Committee

The Committee recommended that the Board approve the recommendation as presented.

Board Discussion and Action

The Board approved the recommendation as presented.
As noted in a separate agenda item, within the report section of these minutes, the final plans and specifications for the proposed Animal Care Facilities at Oregon State University were accepted by the Board's staff following completion by Architects Balzhiser, Longwood, Smith, Paul & Anderson, and bids for construction were solicited. Authorization to proceed with the project within the expenditure limitation of $415,000, approved by the 1973 Legislature, was granted by the State Emergency Board on September 13, 1974.

The five construction bids received in Corvallis on September 18 ranged from a low of $436,480 to a high of $476,700, including the adjustment for two additive bids covering items essential to the operation of the facilities. By comparison, the pre-bid estimate for the direct construction costs was approximately $357,607. The bid overrun is due principally to current inflation.

Based upon the lowest bid, plus the requirements for professional service fees, furnishings and equipment, construction supervision and miscellaneous costs, and a contingency reserve, the minimum project budget would total $510,000, or $95,000 more than the expenditure limitation of $415,000 previously authorized. Inasmuch as the scope of the work has been limited to the minimum requirements, it is not practical to make further revisions to the plans and specifications.

Because of the urgency of completing the Animal Care Facilities, which are necessary to protect the institution's eligibility for continued federal support of various instructional and research programs, it is proposed that the additional funds required for the project be provided from balances available from building use credits originating from indirect cost allowances on contracts and grants.

Staff Recommendation to the Board

It was recommended that the appropriate Board officials be authorized to seek the approval of the State Emergency Board to increase the expenditure limitation for the Animal Care Facilities at Oregon State University, which had been included in the capital outlay program approved by the 1973 Legislature, from $415,000 to $510,000 with the understanding that the additional requirements of $95,000 would be financed from balances available to the institution from building use credits.

Board Discussion and Action

The Board approved the recommendation as presented.

Staff Report to the Committee

In August 1973, the Board reviewed a report prepared by staff, discussing alternatives for meeting the post-secondary educational needs of the southern Oregon region. Particular attention was paid to the possible effect of alternative solutions then being proposed on the ability of Southern Oregon College to continue to offer the range of programs of good quality now being provided in the southern Oregon region.

In its report to the Board, the Board's Office expressed the view:

- That the initiative for defining the post-secondary education services that the citizens of Jackson County desire rests upon them, together with the educational agencies (e.g., Educational Coordinating Council, State Board of Higher Education, State Board of Education).

- That it would be unsound policy for the state to encourage the establishment of a comprehensive community college in Jackson-Josephine Counties now or in the immediate future.

- That the Educational Coordinating Council, State Department of Higher Education (particularly Southern Oregon College), and the State Board of Education, should examine alternative ways of making available the educational services desired, utilizing the resources of Southern Oregon College and Rogue Community College.

The Board's Committee on Academic Affairs asserted that the next step in seeking a solution of the post-secondary educational problems of the region would be the formation of a citizens' advisory committee, and that the action of the Educational Coordinating Council at its July 1973, meeting authorizing the chairman of the council to meet with President Sours, President Pete, and appropriate local officials and citizens of Jackson and Josephine counties to discuss specific issues and problems involved, constituted sufficient direction for the establishment of a citizens' committee. Mrs. Cotton (chairman of the Educational Coordinating Council) and Presidents Sours and Pete, all of whom were present at the Academic Affairs Committee meeting, assured the committee that they would proceed to meet and to establish a citizens' advisory committee.

Citizens' Committee Findings

A citizens' committee was established during the fall 1973, under the chairmanship of Mr. Robert W. Root, of Medford.

The committee reported its findings and recommendations to the Educational Coordinating Council April 18, 1974.

Special Subcommittee of Educational Coordinating Council

The Educational Coordinating Council accepted the report of the Root committee, and appointed a special subcommittee, consisting of Mr. John Snider of the State Board of Higher Education, Mr. Warren Maxwell of the State Board of Education, and Father Paul E. Waldschmidt, member of the Educational Coordinating Council, as chairman, to define a course of action for providing post-secondary educational services to the residents of Jackson County.

The subcommittee has completed its review. The Board at its July meeting heard from Father Waldschmidt a report of the findings of the committee.

Summarized on the following page are the principal findings and recommendations of the report, followed in each case by a brief observation from the Board's Office.
A. Provision of Community College Services in Jackson County

1. The Educational Coordinating Council subcommittee has identified four related problems:
   a. The lack of adequate opportunities for post-secondary vocational and technical education in Jackson County,
   b. Rogue Community College's extremely limited tax base,
   c. Southern Oregon College's declining enrollment and the fiscal impact thereof,
   d. The emerging conflict between Rogue and Southern Oregon College as a precursor of similar and expanded conflicts throughout the state.

The subcommittee found that while there was a significant lack of opportunity for post-secondary vocational education in Jackson County, there did not appear to be a lack of academic educational opportunities, but that access to academic educational opportunities for some geographical areas and age groups could be improved.

Board's Office comment: The Board's Office concurs.

2. The subcommittee stipulates four requisites or goals of any satisfactory solution to the problems:
   a. To provide the needed post-secondary vocational-technical educational opportunities for Jackson County residents.
   b. To permit Rogue Community College to increase its scale of operation and achieve greater financial security.
   c. To insure Southern Oregon College against further erosion and to enable it to respond effectively to changing educational needs.
   d. To establish flexible means of dealing with these problems as a precedent for cooperation between the two systems of post-secondary education.

Board's Office comment: These objectives speak to the concerns of the Board, as identified in the report of the Board's Office to the Academic Affairs Committee in August 1973. The Board's Office believes they provide sound criteria against which to measure the effectiveness of alternative actions which might be taken.

3. The subcommittee identifies two ways in which Jackson County citizens might acquire vocational-technical opportunities. These are:
   a. Establishment of an operating district to offer programs of post-secondary education, either through annexation of all or of a portion of Jackson County to the Rogue Community College district or through establishment of a community college district in Jackson County.

The subcommittee rejected as a solution to this problem the establishment of an operating district, noting that operating districts have the growth-oriented instincts of any institution. These growth instincts would lead the district into development of lower-division collegiate programs in competition with the programs of Southern Oregon College and long-term capital commitments beyond those needed for a coordinated educational program in the region.

Board's Office comment: The Board's Office concurs. Our August 1973 report to the Board's Committee made this point very strongly.
b. Designation of an appropriate legal body as a contracting district to provide additional post-secondary educational opportunities for the citizens of Jackson County.

A contracting district would not employ faculty or offer services itself, but would contract for services from existing educational institutions in the area, i.e., Rogue Community College and Southern Oregon College.

The subcommittee suggests the Jackson County intermediate education district (IED) as the best vehicle to undertake this task for several reasons:

1. The district covers the geographic area to be served (Jackson County).

2. The IED staff is accustomed to coordination of services through a variety of contractual arrangement.

3. The district can begin scheduling classes at any time, without having to wait for a vote, with funding for the operation provided by tuition, regular state contribution to the institutions providing the services, and such "in-kind" contributions as could be made from local sources, e.g., administrative services and space. Tuition cost under this arrangement would be about the same as at Southern Oregon College or for out-of-district students at Rogue. Later, when local support developed, the IED could take a funding proposal to the voters which, if successful, would reduce tuition for Jackson County students.

The Educational Coordinating Council subcommittee points out that a contract with the Jackson Intermediate Education District to provide vocational-technical course work in Jackson County would give Rogue Community College needed income. A contract with Southern Oregon College for academic courses offered in Medford would protect Southern Oregon College from potentially destructive competition and perhaps help them reach an expanded market.

Board’s Office comment: The Board’s Office concurs. Recent action of the Board in authorizing institutions to offer resident credit courses off-campus in load, will enable Southern Oregon College to offer courses under contract with the Jackson Intermediate Education District in Medford as a part of its regular instructional load. While the availability of collegiate courses in Medford may divert some students from the Ashland campus, the loss to Southern Oregon College would be in terms of facility utilization, not faculty utilization. While any loss is regrettable, a reduction in facility utilization is far less serious than the impairment of Southern Oregon College’s program capability which would occur if an operating community college district were established in Jackson County to develop its own educational programs.

A contribution by the taxpayers of Jackson County which substantially lowered tuition cost of the contract program would undoubtedly result in a further diversion of students from the Ashland campus to the Medford program. It might be that, at such a time, the citizens of Jackson County would wish to direct that the tax contribution be made in a form that could be used by Jackson County residents enrolled in any lower-division program offered in the region, whether the program was offered under IED contract in Medford or some other Jackson County location, or directly on the Southern Oregon College or Rogue Community College campuses. This, however, is a matter that can be considered at the appropriate time.

Meanwhile, the Board’s Office believes the designation of a nonoperating education district to contract for additional post-secondary educational services for the citizens of Jackson County (utilizing the lower-division collegiate program resources of Southern Oregon College and the vocational-technical resources of Rogue Community College) offers an acceptable way to provide the services needed in Jackson County, while at the same time (a) providing a source of needed income to Rogue Community College, and (b) preventing the erosion of Southern Oregon College’s academic program capability which would surely occur if the institution suffered the loss of any significant portion of its Medford-based lower-division enrollment to another institution.
A recent draft document, Alternatives and Guidelines for Securing Community College-Type Services in Geographic Areas Outside Community College Districts, prepared by the State Department of Education and dated July 10, 1974, indicates there are no legal impediments to the Educational Coordinating Council subcommittee’s proposal.

Board’s Office Recommendation

The Board’s Office recommended that the Board of Higher Education support the Educational Coordinating Council subcommittee’s recommendation for provision of community college services in Jackson County.

B. Providing Special Support for SOC

In addition to the recommendations of the subcommittee as outlined above, which, if implemented, would protect Southern Oregon College from the potentially crippling effects of the establishment of a competitive program in Medford, the Educational Coordinating Council subcommittee recommended three steps aimed at undergirding Southern Oregon College’s ability to continue to deliver good quality academic programs in a stable or declining enrollment situation, one relating to budgeting; a second to tuition level; and a third to suggestions for boosting Southern Oregon College’s enrollments. The first two were discussed by the Finance Committee of the Board at Ashland in June.

1. Budgeting. The Root committee recommended that the State Board of Higher Education and the legislature adopt a system of budgeting for Southern Oregon College not tied to enrollment. The Educational Coordinating Council subcommittee recommends a budget adequate to provide basic faculty needed to offer authorized programs. The subcommittee considers the Board’s program maintenance proposal for 1975-1977 a good first step in this direction, and recommends that the Board’s request for program maintenance funding be supported by the Educational Coordinating Council and other interested bodies.

2. Tuition Reduction. The Educational Coordinating Council subcommittee does not believe a reduction in lower-division tuition is a sound way to improve Southern Oregon College’s financial position; that tuition would need to be reduced substantially, with accompanying loss of income, to have any real impact on enrollments. Moreover, the subcommittee points out that if the contracting district approach to Jackson County’s education needs is implemented, tuition costs for Southern Oregon College and Rogue Community College courses can be kept equal in Jackson County, thereby eliminating the cost of tuition as a factor in student choice of courses. The subcommittee adds that if the objective of a tuition change were to lower financial barriers to higher education, this should be considered as a major policy decision affecting the state as a whole.

3. Actions Designed to Boost Enrollment. The subcommittee recommends that the State Board of Higher Education and Southern Oregon College consider three recommendations of the Root committee directed toward increasing enrollment at Southern Oregon College. The recommendations are that the Board and/or Southern Oregon College, as appropriate:

a. Halt the expansion of undergraduate enrollments at the University of Oregon and Oregon State University by raising entrance requirements;

b. Develop preprofessional lower-division programs in fields such as engineering and forestry;

c. Develop and publicize programs and projects which are responsive to the changing demands of society or unique to the Southern Oregon College campus and area, e.g., retraining of teachers required by new high school graduation requirements, courses work associated with the Shakespearean Festival, and reduced tuition for "non-degree seekers" taking graduate courses.
Board's Office comment: The State Board of Higher Education has taken action to designate enrollment ceilings for institutions under its control, and will, at its September meeting, consider recommendations for increased admissions requirements for the University of Oregon and Oregon State University, the two institutions in the System approaching their ceiling enrollments.

The effect these actions will have on enrollment in the smaller institutions of the state can only be surmised at this time, but it may be expected that students denied admission at the University of Oregon or Oregon State University will seek admission at a variety of institutions - regional four-year institutions, community colleges, private institutions both in- and out-of-state. The number appearing at any single institution is not likely to be large.

In respect to the development of lower-division transfer programs in professional fields such as engineering and forestry, this is a matter that should be reviewed periodically by collegiate institutions, both four-year and two-year. The cost of employing faculty competent to offer the professional course work required in the lower-division programs in these fields for the small numbers of students involved has generally been prohibitive. Southern Oregon College dropped its one-year transfer program in engineering several years ago for this reason.

Southern Oregon College has had more success in the development and publicizing of programs responsive to changing demands of society or making use of some of the unique assets of Southern Oregon College, especially in its summer programs. A special effort to develop programs of this kind for summer 1974 has resulted in an increase in summer term enrollment over last year.

Further evidence of Southern Oregon College's vitality in meeting changing needs of society is that despite the fact that the institution lost more than half its enrollment in teacher education between fall term 1969, the year the teacher shortage changed to a teacher surplus, and fall term 1973 (a loss of 870 students), total enrollment of the institution did not drop below the 1969 level (4,432) until 1973 (4,332 - fall term head count enrollments). In four years, Southern Oregon College changed from an institution in which 58.5 percent of its students were enrolled in teacher education to one in which 19.3 percent were enrolled in this field.

Ten years ago (1964-65), students wishing to earn a degree at Southern Oregon College could select from a range of six major programs of study: elementary education; secondary education; business; and general studies programs in social science, science-mathematics, and humanities. Ten years later, 1974-75, students at Southern Oregon College will be able to select their major field of study from 26 different areas: 16 liberal arts fields; business administration; social service; criminology; elementary and secondary education; general studies in social science, science-mathematics, humanities, and liberal studies; and nursing.

Summary - SOC Situation

It seems evident that development of competing lower-division programs in Klamath and Josephine counties has adversely affected Southern Oregon College enrollment from these counties, as shown below.

*Opening of the new two-year liberal arts programs at Rogue Community College and Oregon Institute of Technology.
If a lower-division academic program is to be developed in Jackson County off the Southern Oregon College campus, it is imperative that the instruction for the program be the responsibility of Southern Oregon College. Development of an in-load off-campus enrollment would enable Southern Oregon College to maintain its instructional capabilities even though on-campus enrollment is further reduced. The Educational Coordinating Council subcommittee proposal for a contracting district would protect Southern Oregon College from a potentially ruinous competitive situation, and should be given high priority by those interested in resolving the educational problems of the southern Oregon region.

The second most important action to be taken to stabilize the situation at Southern Oregon College is approval by the legislature of program maintenance funds, establishing thereby a floor-level budget not tied exclusively to FTE financing.

The third most important action is for Southern Oregon College to direct its energies to resourceful curricular review and development, not in panic or as an adversary in a battle for students, but in good community with the citizens and other educational agencies in the region. Accomplishment of the first two proposals above will create a situation wherein accomplishment of the third is facilitated.

Discussion and Recommendation by the Committee

Mrs. Johnson said she was opposed to the proposal because it seemed to be an expedient method of dealing with a short term rather than a long-term question. She said it is based on institutional rather than educational needs. Further, there is no substantiating evidence to indicate a lack of educational opportunity in vocational-technical education in the Medford-Jackson County area unless the lack of a community college is regarded as justification for the statement.

Mr. Mosser said he would criticize minor details in the report but the conclusions were sound.

In response to a question, Dr. Romney explained the provisions by which community colleges are expected to provide educational services to areas not included in a community college district.

The Committee recommended that the Board approve the recommendation in Part A of the above report. No action is required on Part B of the report. Mrs. Johnson voted against the motion to recommend approval.

Board Discussion and Action

President Sours said this proposal would be satisfactory to Southern Oregon College. In response to questions, he said there would be no major impact on Southern Oregon College in terms of additional off-campus activity. He said the plan would permit the Intermediate Education District to bring to Jackson County needed vocational and technical programs without further erosion to the programs at Southern Oregon College.

Mrs. Johnson said she would be interested in a statement of the educational needs which presently are not being met. Dr. Romney explained that these would be defined and clarified by the local school districts in the process of determining whether they wished to participate in the use of tax base support for the proposed program. Dr. Romney said the Intermediate Education District distributes a portion of the tax support among the various local school districts which comprise the Intermediate Education District. He indicated that a joint meeting would be held to determine whether the local districts were interested in exploring the question further. If reaction proved favorable, the local districts would then consider the educational needs in their individual districts and whether the proposal would offer the best means for meeting those needs.
The proposal submitted to the Board will give the citizens in Jackson County the option of pursuing the question further.

Mrs. Johnson said if the Board were acting to approve further exploration of the ability of the Intermate Education District to provide additional educational opportunities as set forth in the proposal, she could support the recommendation. However, she said she would continue to oppose this particular proposal.

The Board approved the recommendation to express support of the recommendation of the Educational Coordinating Council Subcommittee for provision of community college services in Jackson County.

Staff Report to the Board

Commercial winegrowing has expanded from less than 100 acres in 1968 to about 1,200 acres in 1974 and from a few hundred gallons ten years ago to over 20,000 gallons produced by seven bonded refineries. The winegrowers have formed the Winegrower's Council of Oregon (WCO), which has identified industry problems and opportunities.

The Winegrower's Council of Oregon has consulted with the Agricultural Experiment Station at Oregon State University and has secured the assistance of the Agricultural Experiment Station in identifying four specific subjects of investigation and the requisite budget therefore. The WCO also has discussed the research proposal with Governor McCall and members of his staff and Governor McCall has suggested that the Board of Higher Education submit, without priority recommendation, a supplemental program improvement request for $203,770 to be used in 1975-1977 for the following research activities.

1. Viticulture research

   Three positions investigating the relation of climatological conditions to the conduct of winegrowing, the identification of the varieties best suited to Oregon sites, the best methods of training, pruning, grafting, cultivation, watering, and control of weeds.

2. Grape pest research

   One position to collect data concerning and develop an integrated system for control of insects and mites that attack vineyards.

3. Enology research

   One position (plus $10,000 for equipment) to make and evaluate experimental wines and to study methods for reduction of acidity and neutralization of wine or must.

4. Grape disease research

   One position to begin the process of identifying and indexing all virus and non-virus grape stock diseases. This activity is a necessary adjunct of the industry objectives of obtaining virus-free imports and to help assure virus-free exports.

These items were not developed in time for consideration by the Oregon Agricultural Research and Advisory Council. Hence, they are not included in the program improvement priorities previously recommended by the Agricultural Experiment Station.

Staff Recommendation to the Board

It was recommended that the Board forward the supplemental program improvement request to the Executive Department without comment as to its priority.

Board Discussion and Action

The Board approved the recommendation as presented.

Board Discussion and Action

The Board confirmed the action of these Board members in approving candidates for degrees and diplomas.

W. P. McLaurin, Mr. Mosser announced that Governor McCall was present for the purpose of administering the oath of office to Mr. W. Philip McLaurin, newly-appointed member of the Board of Higher Education.

Oath of Office Administered by Governor

Governor McCall commended the Board for its choice of both Mr. Layman and Mr. Mosser as Presidents of the Board and also indicated he had been pleased with the work of the student members of the Board. He said he hoped student membership on governing boards of colleges and universities would become very common throughout the nation.

The Governor said a crisis situation again existed with respect to energy requirements. He said there will be a substantial increase in the cost for natural gas and a decrease in the supply from the amount available in 1973. The Governor indicated instructions concerning efforts to cope with this emergency would be distributed to the institutions. The Governor said an energy management program was being established which would call for energy use reductions of 25 percent for transportation in state government, a 15 percent reduction in facilities and equipment, and a 50 percent reduction for all new institutions and new state programs. The energy conservation program for the public will emphasize information about current fuel availability, short-term supply outlook, and the relationship between individual conservation efforts and the jobs that citizens have in this particular situation.

The Governor reported the fiscal situation does not appear to be very favorable in terms of the increased demands on available resources. He then cited statistics related to the budget, with particular reference to basic school support and salaries.

In recognizing Mr. W. Philip McLaurin prior to administering the oath of office, Governor McCall said that during consideration of potential appointees to the Board, he had received enthusiastic recommendations for Mr. McLaurin. Mr. McLaurin was subsequently appointed to the Board on September 6, 1974. Governor McCall then administered the oath of office to Mr. McLaurin.

The Governor concluded by expressing his appreciation to the Board for the public service rendered by its members during the years he had served as Governor.
At the request of Mr. Mossor, Mrs. Johnson presented the following resolution in memory of Dr. Harry K. Newburn, former president of the University of Oregon, who died on August 25, 1974:

RESOLUTION HONORING
HARRY K. NEWBURN
FORMER PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY OF OREGON

WHEREAS, Harry K. Newburn served with distinction as the eighth president of the University of Oregon;

WHEREAS, his dynamic leadership during the critical transition years after World War II strengthened the academic programs, library resources, research activity and quality of faculty, thus enhancing the national reputation of the University;

WHEREAS, his subsequent leadership in higher education outside of Oregon had significant impact on universities in Montana, Arizona, and Ohio, and on national educational television; and,

WHEREAS, Dr. Newburn died at Mesa, Arizona, on August 25, 1974; now, therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the members of the State Board of Higher Education, meeting in regular session at Monmouth, Oregon, on September 24, 1974, again take note of Dr. Newburn's signal contributions to public higher education in Oregon and nationally; and further,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Board extend expressions of sympathy to his wife, Mandlee, and to his sons and daughter upon their personal loss.

The Board approved the resolution as presented.
Staff Report to the Committee

The Board's Office recommended the following admissions requirements for 1975-76:

Oregon Resident Freshmen Admissions Requirements

That the student be required to:

1. Have been graduated from a standard or accredited high school and

2. Meet one of the following requirements:

Overall GPA

- Have a 2.50 high school grade point average or above in all high school subjects taken towards graduation, for admission fall, winter or spring terms; or

- Have a predicted first term GPA (based on a combined measure of high school GPA and scholastic aptitude test scores) of 2.00 or above; or

- Have a minimum grade point average of 2.00 in 12 term hours of prescribed course work taken during the summer term at the University of Oregon or Oregon State University, respectively; or

- Have a minimum grade point average of 2.00 in 15 term hours of college-level course work taken in an accredited collegiate institution.

[Explanation: (1) The foregoing requirements would increase the 1974-75 requirements from a 2.25 high school GPA for fall term and a 2.00 GPA for winter and spring admissions, to a 2.50 required high school GPA for admission any term. (2) The present alternate admissions requirements of a combined SAT score of 890 or ACT score of 20 for admission fall term, or 880 SAT or 20 ACT for admission winter and spring terms would be replaced by a predicted first term GPA (based on a combined measure of high school GPA and scholastic aptitude test scores) of 2.00 GPA or above for admission any term. (3) The alternate admissions requirement of a 2.00 GPA in "9 term hours in a prescribed program in a regular collegiate summer term" would be abolished, and

Students who have not been graduated from a standard or accredited high school may be admitted to a State System institution providing their high school class has been graduated and provided that their performance on the General Education Development (GED) test is acceptable as follows: (1) University of Oregon, Oregon State University: resident students - an average standard score of 55 for fall term admission, and 51 for winter and spring term admissions; for nonresident students - admission any term on a GED average standard score of 63 combined with a satisfactory SAT score; (2) Portland State University, Oregon College of Education: resident students - an average standard score of 55 for fall term admission, and 51 for winter and spring term admissions; for nonresident students - a standard score of 63 combined with a satisfactory SAT/ACT score; (3) Southern Oregon College, Eastern Oregon State College - admission of resident students any term on an average standard GED score of 51; corresponding score required of nonresident students, 59; (4) Oregon Institute of Technology - admission of resident and nonresident students any term on the basis of an average standard GED score of 51.

[Explanation: The required score for admission on the basis of the General Education Development (GED) test would be increased for the University of Oregon and Oregon State University from 55 for fall term admission and 51 for winter and spring term admissions, to 55 for admission any term. For Portland State University and Oregon College of Education the required average standard score for admission would be set at 55 for fall, winter and spring terms, whereas present policies permit admission winter and spring terms on the basis of a score of 51. For all of the other institutions (Southern Oregon College, Eastern Oregon State College, Oregon Institute of Technology) the scores proposed as the basis for admission in 1975-76 remain unchanged from the 1974-75 figures.)] the present alternate of 12 term hours of college-level course work taken in an accredited collegiate institution would be modified to require that the work be in prescribed courses and be taken at the University of Oregon and Oregon State University, respectively. Item "d" above is the same as currently applies.

PSU, OCE

a. Have a 2.25 grade point average or above, in all high school subjects taken towards graduation to enter fall, winter, spring terms; or

b. Have a minimum combined score of 890 SAT or 20 ACT to enter any term; or

c. Have a minimum grade point average of 2.00 in 12 term hours of college-level work taken in an accredited collegiate institution, or in 9 term hours of a prescribed program in a regular collegiate summer school.

(Explanation: The only changes from the 1974-75 requirements recommended for 1975-76 would be (1) to require a 2.25 grade point average or above for admission fall, winter, and spring terms rather than only for fall term, as at present, (2) to require 890 SAT and 20 ACT scores for alternate admissions for fall, winter, and spring terms, rather than only for fall term.)

SOC, EOSC, OIT

a. Have a 2.00 grade point average or above in all high school subjects taken towards graduation to enter fall, winter, spring terms; or

b. Have a minimum combined score of 880 SAT or 20 ACT to enter fall, winter, and spring terms; or

c. Have a minimum grade point average of 2.00 in 12 term hours of college-level work taken in an accredited collegiate institution or in 9 term hours of a prescribed program in a regular collegiate summer school.

(Explanation: The proposed 1975-76 admissions requirements for Southern Oregon College, Eastern Oregon State College, and Oregon Institute of Technology would remain unchanged from 1974-75.)

Nonresident Freshmen Admissions Requirements

Nonresident students must:

1. Have been graduated from an accredited high school and

2. Meet one of the following:

UO, OSU, PSU

a. Have a 2.75 grade point average in all high school subjects taken towards graduation to enter fall, winter, and spring terms; or

b. Have a 2.25 grade point average or above and a predicted first term GPA (based on a combined measure of high school GPA and scholastic aptitude test scores) of 2.10 or above; or

c. Have a minimum grade point average of 2.25 in 12 term hours of prescribed course work taken during the summer term at the University of Oregon, Oregon State University, or Portland State University, respectively; or

d. Have a minimum grade point average of 2.25 in 15 term hours of college-level work taken in an accredited collegiate institution.
[Explanation: The nonresident admissions requirements at the University of Oregon, Oregon State University and Portland State University would remain the same as in 1974-75, except in those particulars: (1) the alternate admissions requirement for applicants not having a 2.75 high school GPA, which is now "a 2.25 grade point average combined with a satisfactory score on the SAT or ACT," would be modified to provide that the alternate shall be a required 2.25 GPA or above, and a predicted first term GPA (based on a combined measure of high school grade point average and scholastic aptitude test scores) of 2.10 and (2) the current provision that an applicant not having a 2.75 high school grade point average may be admitted on the basis of a 2.25 grade point average in "9 term hours in a prescribed program in a regular collegiate summer term," would be dropped, leaving such an applicant the alternate admissions avenues set forth in 2(c) and 2(d), above.]

SOC, OCE, EOSC

a. Have a 2.50 grade point average in all high school subjects taken towards graduation to enter fall, winter, spring terms; or

b. Have a minimum combined score of 890 SAT or 20 ACT; or

c. Have a minimum grade point average of 2.00 in 12 term hours of college-level course work taken in an accredited collegiate institution or in 9 term hours in a prescribed program in a regular collegiate summer term.

(Explanation: The proposed 1975-76 requirements for Southern Oregon College, Oregon College of Education, and Eastern Oregon State College are the same as those in effect in 1974-75.)

a. Have a 2.00 grade point average in all high school subjects taken towards graduation to enter fall, winter, spring terms; or

b. Have a minimum combined score of 880 SAT or 20 ACT; or

c. Have a minimum grade point average of 2.00 in 12 term hours of college-level course work taken in an accredited collegiate institution or in 9 term hours in a prescribed program in a regular collegiate summer term.

(Explanation: The proposed 1975-76 admissions requirements are the same as those applicable in 1974-75.)

The SAT/ACT As a Condition of Admission

The Board's Office recommended:

1. That the State System institutions continue to require that, as a condition of admission of freshmen students, the students submit the results of the SAT or ACT.

2. That the State System institutions be charged with using the information issuing from the SAT or ACT in the continuing improvement of the selection, placement, and advisement of students, and in other ways, to the benefit of the institution and its students.

The Board's Office acknowledges that there is no justification for requiring that entering freshmen students submit the results of SAT or ACT if the results are not then used by the institutions in a constructive fashion to improve institutional operation to the benefit of students. But the Board's Office believes that the information and data made available through the SAT or ACT has the potential for enabling the institutions to serve their students more effectively; that the institutions must put creative effort into devising ways in which the information and data can be systematically employed to the benefit of the institutions and their students.
Students come to our institutions with a great diversity of interests, abilities, needs, past academic achievements. The programs and offerings in our institutions are diversified, the options numerous. It would seem desirable that the student and those who advise him about alternative post-secondary educational activities - including high school counselors and college admissions and advisement and counseling personnel - have access to and make use of a systematic assessment and expression of the student's achievements, competencies, interests, potential for academic success; that these data and this information be employed by the institution in the multiple ways in which such information can be used in the assistance of the individual student and in the improvement of the institution's assessment of its own service to the student. The Board's Office believes that SAT and ACT can contribute importantly to meeting these needs.

The expense to the student ($6.50) and the investment of 3 to 31 hours of time required to complete the SAT or ACT and accompanying materials will be fully justified, we believe, by the uses to which the information is put in the institutions. The Board's Office will be pleased to provide the Board with a progress report with respect to the nature and the extent of the use made of this information and data in the ensuing school year.

Discussion and Recommendation by the Committee

There was general discussion of the validity of the predictive tests required of entering freshmen for admission. It was noted that the tests provide a great deal of information which is useful in counseling students in addition to their function as predictors of college success. It was indicated that the institutions differed in the extent to which they were able to utilize the information available.

The Committee also considered the desirability of making any modifications to the GPA required for admission to the institutions in view of the uncertainty with respect to enrollments and the decline in enrollment which some institutions have experienced. It was indicated that these and other guidelines are being reviewed for controlling enrollment.

President Clark said the institutions would find it helpful if the Board reaffirmed the policy which permits the institutions to exclude students from particular programs on the basis of internal regulation of standards. There was also some discussion of the possibility of allowing the institutions the option of requiring standard tests for admission. However, it was suggested that this was a major modification in present admissions policy and should be referred to the registrars and admissions officers for further study.

The Committee recommended that the Board approve the recommendations as presented, with the understanding that there would be a report at the end of one year on the efficacy of the information obtained from the SAT and ACT tests required for admission. It was indicated also that the action was not intended to restrict the right of the institutions to establish admissions requirements for specific programs.

Board Discussion and Action

Mr. Stewart moved that the Board approve the recommendations as presented.

After explaining the recommendations on behalf of the Committee, Mr. Maden said further study of the recommendation to use SAT/ACT test scores as a condition of admissions indicated that the tests were used by the institutions primarily for counseling purposes. He said the real use of the tests is not as an instrument for purposes of admission. Mr. Maden mentioned that several institutions in the State System have developed other methods of obtaining information needed for counseling students.

Mr. Maden moved to amend the original motion so that the SAT/ACT tests would be a condition of admission based on the decision of each institution, and that each institution provide information based on how the tests were used if they decide to use them. If the tests were not used, information should be provided on the other means of evaluation used instead of the tests. A report of all findings should be made to the Board no later than August 1975.
Mr. Joss said he had withdrawn a similar motion at the time of the Committee meeting in order to give the institutions time for further review of the question. He asked if there had been an opportunity for the institutions to review the use of the SAT/ACT tests as an admissions requirement since the Committee meeting.

The Chancellor said it had been discussed by the executives and widely varying points of view were expressed. The Chancellor said the motion was not at variance with his judgment with respect to what should be done.

Mr. Joss said he would support the motion to amend.

Mrs. Johnson said she would oppose the amendment making the use of the tests an institutional decision because the matter of counseling, the accumulation of comparable statistics, and the matter of statewide planning for coordination of post-secondary education were important considerations which must be based upon comparable data. She said the test scores, when the tests are administered during the time the students are in high school, have broad implications for statewide planning. She said the Board must look beyond the institutions in the State System and think in terms of planning, coordination, and cooperation, especially in the area of counseling so that the best use is made of the money that is available to students for tuition.

In response to questions during the discussion, it was indicated the test scores are used to determine the level of instruction for a student and also for waiving certain requirements if a student does particularly well in sections of the tests.

Dr. Romney also indicated the SAT score would include separate data on reading comprehension, vocabulary, and English composition.

In response to a request for clarification of the effect of the motion to approve the original recommendation and the amendment to that motion, Mr. Mosser said there were three methods by which a student could gain admission. He said whether the test score was required by the institution or not, the student would still have the right to submit a satisfactory test score in support of his right to be admitted.

Mr. Joss's amendment would remove the requirement that the institution must obtain either the ACT or SAT for entering freshmen.

President Mosser said a public hearing previously had been announced for 10:30 A.M., September 24, 1974. That hour having arrived he asked if anyone wished to be heard for or against the proposed admissions requirements for 1975-76.

President MacVicar said if the institutions are free to determine alternate admissions requirements it raises the question of whether there are in fact standards with respect to admissions requirements. He said the question of admissions standards has involved articulation with the high schools and is not a unilateral decision which affects only the colleges. There should be an opportunity to consult with the Secondary School Principals Association and the Oregon School Counseling and Guidance Association concerning the impact of this decision on the secondary schools. President MacVicar said if the test is not required, many students in Oregon will not take the test which is built into the process of evaluation of the secondary schools. President MacVicar also commented that the tests could be beneficial to students because it may show the student that he has abilities for academic achievement that may not have been apparent during high school.

Mr. Mosser said if the tests were beneficial to the high schools, they should be required by the Board of Education rather than by the Board of Higher Education, because the tests are often taken during the summer after graduation when there is not further opportunity for counseling at the high school level.

There was some discussion as to the validity of the data and the value of the information obtained in terms of the cost to the student and the time and effort involved in taking the test.

Dr. Romney said the institution receives a substantial amount of information from the tests at a relatively low cost to the student. This information, in many instances, has proved to be of real value in advising and counseling students.
Mr. Westerdahl said the issue was whether tests should be a mandatory requirement of entering freshmen for all institutions. He asked which institutions did not want to require the tests and why it would be detrimental or cause problems if the institutions did require the test scores.

President Blumel said he had opposed the requirement that all institutions require their students to take these tests. Many students at Portland State University apply late and therefore have not taken the tests. If the tests are required by the institutions, the students must either be denied admission or permitted to take the test after registration. Thus, the information which is valuable for placement and counseling purposes is not available when it would be most useful. He said approximately one-third of the students have not taken a test by the time of registration.

Mrs. Johnson emphasized the need for planning when the students set their educational goals and for evaluation of the quality of the education which they have received.

President Sours said he would support the use of one test if the institutions were guaranteed support from the Board to enable the institutions to use the results of the programs that go along with the test.

President Sours suggested a representative of each of the national testing programs be invited to explain what it is the tests are intended to provide and how the data can be used within the institution and among the institutions in the State System.

Dr. Romney pointed out that the decision was not a question of using the test scores as an alternate basis of admission but rather the requirement of the test as a basis for advising and placement and for granting waivers on the basis of achievement or ability shown by the test.

Mr. Westerdahl asked whether institutions other than Portland State University did not wish to have the test required. The Chancellor responded that it was his impression Portland State University and Southern Oregon College would not impose this requirement.

President Clark said the University of Oregon would probably continue to support the test. However, he said President MacVicar had stated that if some institutions elected to eliminate the test requirement, it was probably all institutions would be forced to do so because of student reaction. President Clark felt that would not be the case. He said there should be further discussions before the policy is changed.

There being no further public testimony, Mr. Mosser declared the hearing closed.

Mr. Mosser said that the motion by Mr. Stewart was to adopt the full range of individual requirements plus the SAT/ACT tests as a condition of admission. The substitute motion by Mr. Maden would permit the question of the SAT/ACT test requirement as a condition of admission to be decided by each institution in the State System.

The Board voted against a motion by Miss McIntyre to call another Board public hearing on the question of testing at the time of the October Committee meetings, after the institutions had an opportunity for further review.

The Board then defeated the substitute motion by Mr. Maden to permit each institution to decide whether to require the SAT/ACT tests as a condition of admission, and to require the institutions to submit reports on the action and the success or failure of any alternate policy adopted, and the use made of the tests, if they are required.

Directors Corey, Johnson, Layman, McIntyre, Westerdahl, and Mosser voted against the motion. Directors Joss, Maden, McLaurin, Snider, and Stewart voted yes.

The Board then approved the motion by Mr. Stewart to adopt the policy recommended by the Board's Office and the Committee. Mr. Maden voted against the motion.
Traffic and Parking Fees and Regulations

(Considered by Committee on Finance, Administration and Physical Plant, August 28, 1974; present--Westendarl, Corey, McIntyre, Snider.)

Staff Report to the Committee

ORS 352.360 authorized the Board to "enact such regulations as it shall deem convenient or necessary to provide for the policing, control and regulation of traffic and parking of vehicles on the property of any institution under the jurisdiction of the Board." ORS 351.070 authorizes the Board to "prescribe and collect charges for services rendered to any person or entity."

Past practice has been for the Board annually to review and approve institutional regulations regarding vehicular traffic and parking. This procedure is subject to the provisions of the Administrative Procedures Act.

It is appropriate that there be Board control of the fees and other charges and that the Board should be directly involved in the setting of those regulations, rates and charges it deems to be particularly sensitive.

Institutions have formulated proposed traffic and parking fees and regulations for the 1974-75 school year. They are included in this agenda for Committee consideration and favorable recommendation to the Board.

To comply with the Administrative Procedures Act, notice has been sent to the Secretary of State that a public hearing on the regulation will be held at the Board meeting on September 24, 1974.

Proposed changes for 1974-75 are outlined below. The complete text of all institutional regulations appear as Supplement A to these minutes.

EASTERN OREGON STATE COLLEGE

Although the text has been reorganized, there is little change in the regulations except for an increase from $5.00 to $12.00 for improved reserved parking and initiating a charge of $4.00 for unimproved parking per annum. The fines remain the same.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON HEALTH SCIENCES CENTER

No changes from existing regulations.
PORTLAND STATE UNIVERSITY

Fees and fines remain unchanged. A new section has been added as follows:

Section 11. Refunds

Pro rata funds may be made, upon request, to faculty, staff or students who return permits for reasons beyond their control; i.e. termination, withdrawal, inoperable vehicle, etc.

Staff Recommendation

It was recommended that, after public hearing, the traffic and parking fees and regulations be adopted as proposed.

Discussion and Recommendation by the Committee

Mr. Westerdahl said he would favor future consideration of a financial incentive as well as a convenience incentive for the use of car pools.

The Committee recommended that the Board approve the traffic and parking regulations as presented, following public hearing at the September 24, 1974, Board meeting.

Supplemental Staff Report

Although circumstances differ among the institutions, the Board may wish to consider adopting general guidelines for institutional use in implementing car pool regulations. The guidelines should cause neither financial hardship nor an unmanageable enforcement problem. The following guidelines are recommended, subject to institutional comment:

1. A car pool is defined as three or more persons regularly sharing transportation to or from an institution.

2. One parking permit will be issued to each car pool at the regular rate for the type of permit (reserved, student, "hunting license," etc.). The permit would be placed on the dashboard of the pool member's car being used.

3. Exclusive parking areas may be designated for pool cars (preferably close to areas of work).

Board Discussion and Action

President Mouser said that a public hearing previously had been announced for 10:30 A.M., September 24, 1974. That hour having arrived, he asked if anyone wished to be heard for or against the proposed traffic and parking fees and regulations.

There being no response to his request, and no persons asked to be heard for or against the proposal, the Board approved the traffic fees and regulations as presented.

SECRETARY'S CERTIFICATE

I, D. R. LARSON, Secretary of the State Board of Higher Education of the State of Oregon, do hereby certify that the above excerpt from the minutes of the Regular Meeting of the State Board of Higher Education of the State of Oregon held on the 24th day of September, 1974, has been compared by me with the original minutes and is a true and correct copy of the whole therefrom insofar as such minutes relate to the matters therein referred to.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the official seal of the State Board of Higher Education this 11th day of October, 1974.

D. R. LARSON, Secretary
the Dental School project. Following the receipt of bids on April 23, 1974, for the remodeling work, a contract award was made to the low bidder in the amount of $260,054. The Department of General Services assisted the institution in obtaining bids for the equipment items and after rejecting the lump sum proposals obtained initially, received new bids and awarded contracts separately for the new dental units, dental chairs, and lights.

The revised post-bid budget totals $786,500, as follows:

- Direct construction costs for alterations to building, including mechanical and electrical system revisions:
  - Fulton's Plumbing & Heating Co., Forest Grove: $260,054
- Professional service fees: $26,005
- Clinic equipment:
  - Dental units: MDI Instrument Company: $254,000
  - Dental chairs: Marco Dental Products: $122,892
  - Subtotal: $442,057
- Stools (To be ordered): $22,500
- Construction supervision and miscellaneous costs: $42,000
- Contingencies: $37,500
- Total: $786,500

It is expected that a major portion of the amount budgeted for contingencies will be used for the purchase of 15 additional chairs ($16,492.50) and for 231 needle valves ($1,386) omitted from the initial equipment orders.

The indicated total of $786,500 for the project is $198,500 less than the adjusted authorization by the Board. With the concurrence of the State Emergency Board on June 28, 1974, $125,500 of such "savings" were allocated to assist in the financing of the UOBS-UOOS Utility Improvements project during 1973-1975. The remaining $75,000 of the "savings" will be available for other approved capital construction items.

Funding for the clinic equipment replacement and related alterations is being provided equally from the General Fund appropriation in Chapter 552, Oregon Laws 1973 and from the proceeds of the sale of bonds under Article XI-G of the Oregon Constitution.

Board Discussion and Action

The Board accepted the report as presented.

Report of Acceptance of Final Plans for Animal Care Facilities, OSU

Inasmuch as the final plans and specifications prepared by Talvisser, Longwood, Smith, Paul & Anderson, project architects, for the proposed Animal Care Facilities at Oregon State University conform to the revised schematic design phase of planning as approved by the Board on May 21, 1974, they have been accepted by the Board's Office.

The initial construction phase would contain a gross area of approximately 8,315 square feet and would include among other spaces several animal holding rooms, a minor surgery, treatment rooms, diet preparation area, cage washing facilities, storage and offices. Provision is made for potential future expansion to a total of approximately 24,000 square feet.

The structural frame of the building would consist of exterior and interior bearing walls of reinforced grouted concrete block. Precast, prestressed concrete core slabs would be used for the roof. Door and window members would be of hollow metal (steel). All interior finishes would comply with sanitation requirements consistent with the governmental regulations and guidelines established by the Laboratory Animal Welfare Act, amended by the Animal Welfare Act of 1970, and by the National Institutes of Health in 1971.

Authorization to proceed with the project within an expenditure limitation of $415,000 was obtained from the 1973 Legislature. Based upon the project architects' most recent analysis, following completion of the working drawings, the direct construction costs are estimated to be $357,607. The remainder of the project budget of $415,000 relates to professional services, construction supervision, furnishings and equipment, miscellaneous costs and a contingency reserve. Bids for the work are scheduled to be received in Corvallis on September 18, 1974. Subject to the receipt of satisfactory bids and appropriate action by the State Emergency Board on September 13, 1974, in releasing the funds for expenditure, it is expected that a contract award will be made and a budget totaling $415,000, or less, will be approved for the project.

Report of Acceptance of Final Plans for Dearborn Hall Remodeling, OSU

Upon the recommendation of institutional officials, the Board's Office has accepted the final plans and specifications which Architects Etcetera have completed for the proposed Dearborn Hall Remodeling at Oregon State University. This project was authorized by the 1973 Legislature within an expenditure limitation of $275,000. Based upon the project architects' most recent analysis, following completion of the working drawings, the direct construction costs are estimated to be $216,840. The remainder of the project budget of $275,000 relates to professional services, construction supervision, furnishings and equipment, miscellaneous costs and a contingency reserve. Subject to the release of funds by the State Emergency Board, being requested at the meeting of September 13, 1974, it is expected that if satisfactory bids are received on or about October 3, 1974, a contract award will be made for the construction and remodeling work.
The final plans and specifications conform generally with the preliminary plans (schematic design) approved by the Board on May 21, 1974. The new space created by flooring over an intermediate level of an existing two-story space (a power laboratory) would provide a lecture room with a stepped-floor and a large area which would be used initially as a multi-purpose space for graduate students but later would be partitioned for faculty and staff offices, a conference room and a self-learning center. Also incorporated would be the conversion of the long, narrow level-floor classroom on the third floor of the building into a 36-station vocational education electronics laboratory. The remodeling of existing spaces on the ground floor and the third floor would involve a total gross area of approximately 7,603 square feet, and the new construction would add approximately 4,817 square feet.

The new floor of the lecture hall portion would be formed of reinforced concrete flat plate construction with formed seating risers. The new floor of the future office space portion would be formed of steel beams providing a column-free span across the existing power laboratory. A concrete floor slab would be poured on metal decking carried by these beams. Interior finishes would be standard for those typically used in classrooms and offices. The lecture hall would be provided with a projection booth with the capability to handle a wide range of audio-visual equipment and be fitted with 175 tablet-arm chairs secured to the face of the risers.

Report of Bids and Contract Award for Utility Improvements (Steam Service), PSU

On May 21, 1974, a report was made to the Board concerning the acceptance of the construction documents phase of planning for the Utility Improvements at Portland State University which had been authorized by the 1973 Legislature. Subsequently, on July 11, 1974, bids were received for the steam service portion of these improvements. Although all three of the bids received, which ranged from a low of $339,227 to a high of $371,921, exceeded the engineers' prebid estimate for this portion of the work, a contract award was made and the following budget was approved:

Direct construction costs - Fullman Mechanical Contractors, Inc., Portland $339,227
Professional service fees $30,530
Construction supervision and miscellaneous costs $5,385
Contingencies $6,785
Subtotal $381,927

Less - Portion applicable to sewer modifications included in bid invitation and contract award, but funded separately
Net amount applicable to steam service improvements $370,000

The remainder of the total expenditure limitation of $450,000 approved by the 1973 Legislature for Utility Improvements at Portland State University is being reserved for the initial phase of the general monitoring system.

The steam improvements include the addition of a second boiler in the southwest utility plant adjacent to the Health and Physical Education Building and the installation of new steam and condensate return lines for connection to the Science Buildings, thus relieving a portion of the load now carried from the heating plant in Cramer Hall. The new boiler will have a rated capacity of approximately 20,000 DMH, comparable to the existing unit, will be equipped to burn either natural gas or oil, and will operate below maximum pressures of 15 pounds, the limit for boilers without continuous supervision. It is to be installed within a small addition at the east side of the existing plant.

The costs of the steam service improvements are to be financed equally from the general fund appropriation Chapter 592, Oregon Laws 1973 and Article XI-G bond proceeds. (The auxiliary enterprises resources contemplated for the total utility improvements project relate exclusively to the general monitoring system.)

Progress Report

(Considered by Committee on Finance, Administration, and Physical Plant, August 28, 1974; present--Westerdahl, Corey, McIntyre, Snider.)

Staff Report to the Committee

The 1973 Legislature authorized expenditures up to $10 million to provide housing for students in the Portland area who are enrolled at Portland State University or in units of the Health Sciences Center. Columbian Research Institute of Portland was appointed as consultants to assist in evaluating the various concepts of the student housing program in Portland. Initially, the assignment was to assist in the determination of need, to make a comprehensive feasibility study, to evaluate the need and to chart it in various categories. The contract with the consulting firm has since been supplemented to deal with the economic and locational factors.

Discussion by the Committee

Mr. Hunderup indicated that Mr. W. C. Neland had been working very closely with the consultants and requested him to comment on the progress of the study.

Mr. Neland said he was acting as coordinator of an interinstitutional committee representing Portland State University and the Health Sciences Center. The committee had been directed to consider student housing for all of the institutions in Portland.

Mr. Neland said the following constraints have had an impact on the progress of the report:

1. Economic feasibility, which is the paramount question.
2. Compatibility with city planning guidelines which are constantly changing.
3. Disparate populations of Portland State University and the Health Sciences Center.
4. The changing dynamics of the city housing market which have deteriorated in recent months.
5. Restrictions on transportation and parking which are still in evolution within the city.
6. The quality expected in the housing facilities.
7. The impact on the cost of construction as a result of the State Uniform Building Code and the City Fire Code for certain zones within the city.

Mr. Neland said the consultants had been asked to develop the maximum amount of information about the clients to be served by the housing project so that the effect of changes in the factors mentioned above could be determined quickly and accurately. He then introduced Mr. H. W. Bahls, Jr., an associate of Columbian Research Institute.

Mr. Bahls said the results of the need phase of the study demonstrated a basic primary need for approximately 800 housing units for students at Portland State University and the Health Sciences Center. This figure was based on a scientifically selected sampling of students who were asked to respond to a questionnaire concerning preferences and satisfaction with respect to housing. There was a 60 percent response to the questionnaire. The study revealed three market groups of student need. The primary market group consists of those people who are extremely dissatisfied with their housing and are willing to move and to pay...
prices that seem to be within the range of feasibility. Approximately 800 housing units would be needed to serve the 1,000 students in this group. Approximately one-third of these should be one and two-bedroom apartments for younger single people within walking distance of the institution. The remainder have no specific location requirements except that the housing be near direct bus service and convenient stores. This group is divided almost equally between married people with families and single students or married students without children.

Mr. Bahls said the location and economic phase of the study was begun recently and several alternatives have been considered including various types of construction, rehabilitation of existing housing to meet code requirements, and acquisition of existing housing. The location should be adjacent to direct bus lines to meet student requirements and the interest of the city in reducing student dependence on automobiles. The housing project must be self-supporting and self-liquidating. Since it is desirable to have the units available as soon as possible, rehabilitation may have certain advantages over new construction.

Mr. Neland reported that Mr. Homer Matson has been appointed to the new position of housing manager for the City of Portland. There is some interest in a cooperative housing development if the units are compatible with the housing program and housing planning for the City of Portland. Mr. Neland said it appears that the cost of construction within fire zone one is prohibitive and virtually rules out the development of housing near university areas. Consequently, transportation must be an important consideration in the development of housing.

In response to a question concerning the delay in undertaking the study after it was authorized, Mr. Neland said several factors had contributed. There was a question of legislative approval for the reservation of funds which delayed the selection of consultants. Following the selection, the timing for each phase of the study was slightly longer than anticipated, partially due to the time of year at which it occurred. He said it is expected that a recommendation will be presented to the next Board Committee meeting.

In response to a question concerning students who were questioned in the survey, Mr. Neland said a representative sampling of students had been taken, including those in Portland Student Services housing and a few who were within the Portland Housing Authority. It was also indicated that the problem of transportation and the question of possible rental relief as an incentive to occupancy of the housing required additional study. It was stated that the financing was a critical element in the planning and would be a part of the report.

Mrs. Louise Weidlich, President of Mothers for Children, referred to the financial implications of the housing project. Mr. Westerdahl indicated the Committee was not discussing the actual construction of the project and that Mrs. Weidlich would have an opportunity to make her statement when the project was submitted for Board approval.

The Committee accepted the report with the understanding that a further report and recommendations would be presented to a subsequent meeting of the Committee.

Faculty Staffing Plans, A Status Report

(Considered by Committee on Instruction, Research, and Public Services, August 28, 1974; present--Stewart, Johnson, Joss, Maden, Mosser.)

Staff Report to the Committee

The Board will recall that, following a year-and-a-half's study of tenure, the Academic Affairs Committee presented to the Board for consideration and adoption in July 1973, proposed Administrative Rules relating to appointment, promotion, tenure, and termination of appointments of faculty.
The Board adopted the proposed rules, which became effective in September 1973, following publication by the Secretary of State.

In the course of the development of the foregoing rules, there was discussion as to the possible need for adopting a rule providing that institutions should develop staffing plans that would assure against the institutions' becoming "tenured-in" and would assure a continuing inflow of new faculty. It was concluded that it would be better simply to ask the institutions to develop staffing plans. The issue as to whether an Administrative Rule is needed, and if so, what sort of rule, could be better spoken to, it was agreed, after the institutions had been through the experience of drafting a staffing plan. Accordingly, the institutions were asked to develop staffing plans.

Implicit in the Committee's request to the institutions were the following views:

1. That the ability of an institution to maintain a continuing inflow of new faculty through reasonably regular appointments to the faculty is important to at least two institutional goals:
   a. The maintenance of institutional vitality, contributed to by the regular influx of new faculty on a continuing basis.
   b. Affirmative action in institutional employment policies, providing for expanded employment of women and members of minority groups.

2. That in a period of stabilizing enrollments, the ability to appoint new members to the faculty on a reasonably regular basis will be dependent upon well thought-out staffing plans.

3. That the approaches to maintaining flexibility in faculty appointments will, of necessity, vary from institution to institution because of differing faculty configurations in such aspects as: age, academic rank, tenure status, departure rates (leaves, resignations, non-reappointments, retirements, deaths), anticipated rate of faculty additions in the several academic ranks, anticipated rate at which tenure will be granted.

4. That institutional tenure policies may need to be applied differentially to permit the institution to meet what commitments it may feel that it has to those faculty members employed prior to the establishment of the new tenure policies in 1973; in the process institutions may exceed in the short term the general tenure level they envision as the long-term target.

Institutional Progress

Faculty Involvement

Obedient to the Board's desires that faculty be given effective voice in the development of policies that stand to affect them, the institutions have sought to provide for appropriate input from faculty in the development of their staffing plans.

Interim Action by Institutions

During the discussions incident to the development of the tenure policies, institutional representatives were sensitized to the Board's concern that institutions not become "tenured-in." Consequently, the institutions have been judicious in their application of appointment and tenure policies while the staffing plans are in the process of development.

Institutions Completing Staffing Plans Fall 1974

The staffing plans of several institutions (Oregon State University, Portland State University, Southern Oregon College, Eastern Oregon State College) are now well along in their passage through faculty and administrative policy councils and offices and the institutions anticipate completion of the plans during fall term 1974.
Portland State University and Southern Oregon College submitted initial staffing plans in 1973-74, but requested that they be permitted to develop revisions of these initial plans because of significant staff changes made necessary in adjusting to the enrollment declines in 1973-74. Their revised plans will be submitted fall term 1974.

Staffing Plans Completed

Institutions with staffing plans completed are the University of Oregon Medical and Dental Schools, the University of Oregon, and Oregon College of Education. Brief comments concerning these plans may be appropriate here.

UO Medical School. The University of Oregon Medical School staffing plan indicates that the Medical School will not have a "tenuring-in" problem. Dean Holman, after displaying the data, asserts that the analysis of the data reveals that the data clearly indicate that we will not have a tenuring-in problem in either the School of Medicine or the School of Nursing. In the School of Medicine, the normal movement of faculty between medical schools, which is rather extensive, and the number of younger faculty members who leave for private practice can be expected to continue. Even though the number leaving may decrease and the estimate of total increase in faculty size may be overly optimistic, there is little prospect that a tenure problem (tenuring-in) will occur.

In the School of Nursing the high percentage of young faculty members who leave for reasons of marriage, pregnancy, or child rearing can be expected to continue and will remove any possibility that the School of Nursing will become predominantly tenured.

The ratios of tenured to non-tenured faculty for the Nursing School, and for the basic science and clinical science departments at the Medical School for 1973-74 and estimated for 1983-84, are:

(The foregoing figures do not include administrative personnel, library personnel, or the Crippled Children's Division personnel.)

UO Dental School. On the basis of the data developed in the Dental School faculty staffing plan, Dean Terkla asserts in conclusion that:

The University of Oregon Dental School anticipates no difficulty in progressing from the current faculty staffing plan to the one proposed for 1984-85. "Tenuring-in" will be avoided and the relative proportions of faculty within ranks and age groups will remain reasonably consistent with the present configuration.

The faculty staffing figures indicate that, if one considers only the regular faculty of the rank of instructor and above (omitting the clinical associates and clinical assistants), 56 percent of the Dental School faculty is presently tenured. As estimated for 1984, based upon a careful analysis of the faculty vacancies that it is estimated will occur, the faculty additions that it is estimated will need to be made, and other relevant considerations, the percentage of the faculty who will be tenured in 1984-85 will be 63 percent.
Faculty flexibility in the Dental School is further enhanced by the fact that in 1973-74, the Dental School had 37 clinical associates and 38 clinical assistants, all of whom are nontenured, and that it anticipates that it will have 36 and 35 clinical associates and clinical assistants, respectively, in 1984-85, also nontenured.

University of Oregon. The University of Oregon faculty staffing plan is designed to achieve the following purposes:

a. To maintain the financial capability to accommodate fluctuations in enrollments and alterations in student needs;

b. To provide the capability to operate high quality instruction during possible periods of restricted non-state funding;

c. To meet the University's obligation to recognize the reasonable expectations and conditions of appointment of faculty members who joined the University prior to the development of revised staffing plans;

d. To maintain competitive average salaries for faculty within limits prescribed by the State Board of Higher Education;

e. To maintain quality faculty necessary for providing the high level undergraduate, professional and graduate instruction that is consistent with the nature of a strong university;

f. To provide for a regular influx of new ideas from younger faculty members at the University and from visitors, both junior and senior, from other universities and institutions;

g. Ultimately, to provide flexibility for change and experimentation.

The assumptions employed in the development of the staffing plan are stated by the University in the following terms:

18. Statement of Assumptions: The assumptions utilized in the plan presented, ... are as follows:

a. That institutional enrollments for the period through 1983 shall be as projected by Mr. Gay Lutz in his Fall 1973 report and enrollments thereafter will be projected on the same basis.

b. That staff entitlements shall be assumed (to be calculated) by the method ... by which the 1973 Legislature assigned funds to the State System of Higher Education ...

c. That the rate of faculty resignations and retirements shall be regularly updated as indicated in item 17 of the Staffing Plan.

d. That the length of the probationary period for the granting of tenure shall be as provided for in the Administrative Rules adopted by the State System in July 1973.

e. That the proportion of faculty on fixed term appointments, annual appointments and indefinite tenure be regularly adjusted by the mechanism prescribed so as to assure the capability of maintaining the target levels for the particular index chosen by the University, but with variation from such levels as necessary to meet the objectives of the Staffing Plan and as indicated in the Plan.
f. That internal flexibility within the institution be guided by the nature of the departments and schools within the University and their stage of development as indicated in the preamble to the Staffing Plan, and that maintenance of the internal adjustments be the responsibility of the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

g. That exchange programs be encouraged as indicated in the Plan, but, at this stage, there is no statistical basis for determining the extent of such programs.

h. That the percentage of academic staff to be used for graduate teaching fellows will remain essentially constant throughout the period involved, unless there is alteration in the mission given the University through action of the State Board of Higher Education.

The numerical index employed by the University in calculating its level of tenure in 1972-73 and in estimating the level of tenure in succeeding years was the percentage derived by relating the headcount of tenured staff in instructional departments to the total state budgeted full-time equivalent academic staff (including graduate teaching fellows) in instructional departments.

The percentage of tenured faculty in 1972-73 was reported by the University to be 63 percent. Based upon the carefully made estimates relating to such data as faculty vacancies, additions, promotions, anticipated rates of granting tenure, and the like, the level of tenure for succeeding years is estimated by the University to be:

Oregon College of Education. President Rice sets forth the objectives of the Oregon College of Education staffing plan as follows:

1. To promote continued vitality among all teaching and administrative faculty in order to assure quality educational services to the public.

2. To maintain a diversified and well balanced faculty in academic preparation, experience, age, sex, and ethnic background.

3. To comply with state and federal regulations regarding affirmative action.

4. To promote the inflow of new ideas and fresh approaches to problems through the professional growth of faculty and through careful selection of new faculty.

5. To nurture the capacity of the institution to be flexible and effective in meeting changing conditions, problems, and opportunities in higher education in the years ahead.

President Rice reports that:

Oregon College of Education regards its present configuration of faculty as diversified and well balanced when viewed in terms of age, academic rank, and tenure status. At the beginning of the 1973-74 academic year 61 percent of the 194 persons assigned full time to instructional duties were tenured, 44 percent hold the rank of associate or full professor. The median age of the faculty is 41, and the range is from 26 to 64 years.
Declining enrollments will have the effect of raising the median age level and creating a higher percentage of tenured faculty in the years immediately ahead.

Oregon College of Education's staffing plan asserts the obligation of the college to deal fairly with nontenured members of the faculty who were earlier employed with the understanding that they would be considered for tenure appointments in accordance with stated institutional criteria. Doing so, will, in the judgment of President Rice, lead to Oregon College of Education's percentage of tenured faculty rising to a peak in the 1975-1977 biennium of 78 percent and declining thereafter to 69 percent in the 1979-1981 biennium and hovering around that figure in the 1981-1983 biennium. (These figures are not entirely comparable with the University of Oregon figures but will be made so in the current revision.)

President Rice sums up the steps that Oregon College of Education is taking to maintain a competent vital faculty as follows:

1. Encourage faculty members to use leaves of absence to accept full- or part-time appointments in endeavors such as consulting or teaching at other institutions, where opportunities exist on a temporary basis. Faculty members will also be encouraged to take time out from their regular employment to engage in scholarly activities such as research and advanced study. This will have the effect of updating, rejuvenating, and otherwise improving the quality of permanent faculty; it will also provide a means of increasing the inflow of new faculty during the years ahead when opportunities to add new faculty are limited and the proportion of tenured to nontenured faculty increases.

2. Continue affirmative action so as to provide equal opportunity to women and members of minority groups.

3. Monitor the age distribution of faculty members, particularly in faculty groups having similar backgrounds of experience and training, and act to fill vacancies which occur within such groups so as to achieve an optimal balance in the distribution of faculty by age. An optimal distribution might be one in which retirements would occur at five year intervals within each group of like faculty members.

4. Use fixed term appointments judiciously to fill the following kinds of positions.

   a. Those in areas in which periodic changes in faculty resources are predictable and consequently in which differing staff configurations may be essential to secure program changes.

   b. Positions created by persons on leaves of absence, sabbatical or other.

   c. Positions which for other reasons, such as declining enrollment, the institution lacks the prospect of continuing support for.

Fixed term appointments will be limited to the extent possible, and the aim will be to fill them with persons who will be personally and professionally advantaged by such employment.

A more complete report on faculty staffing plans will be provided the Committee and the Board when the remaining institutions complete their plans this approaching fall term.

At the same time, the Board's Office will report on the companion institutional plans which have been under development in the institutions since fall term 1973 - namely, faculty career support program plans. The Board may recall that the Administrative Rules (AR 42.300) adopted by the Board in July 1973, provide for the Institutions to develop and maintain staff career support programs. These programs are especially important to the maintenance of faculty vitality in a period of stabilizing enrollments when the number of new faculty which may be added is substantially reduced.
The Committee discussed the following points with respect to the faculty staffing plans and tenure:

1. The probationary period before tenure is granted has tended to be shorter during the recent period of rapid growth, but the trend across the country has been to increase the length of the probationary period and apply more stringent standards for granting tenure as enrollment patterns have changed.

2. Faculty career support program plans should be integrated with faculty staffing plans into a composite program.

3. The faculty staffing plans should be ready for consideration preferably at the October Committee meetings, but at the very latest by the December Committee meetings, so that any funding requested for career support programs can be presented to the legislature. Otherwise the programs would be deferred for two years.

4. Court decisions vary on the dismissal of faculty in the event of financial exigency. The legal staff was requested to study the Administrative Rules or statutes which might be involved in order to strengthen the position of the state with respect to any necessary dismissals in the event of financial exigency.

5. Tenure should not be viewed as job security. In addition to the original concept of guaranteeing academic freedom, tenure should be based on review and evaluation of teaching performance, including student evaluations.

6. In response to questions concerning graduate teaching fellows and appointments to fixed term contracts, it was indicated that further information would be provided as to the effect of these individuals in terms of tenure flexibility.

It was stated that no Board action was required and that there would be further discussion at subsequent Committee meetings.

The following personnel adjustments are for the 1973-74 fiscal year.
President Mosser announced that the next meetings of the Board's Committees would be Monday and Tuesday, October 28-29, 1974, at Portland State University. It was indicated both Committees would meet concurrently on Monday. Mr. Westerdahl said the Committee on Finance, Administration, and Physical Plant would consider budget matters on Tuesday only. All other topics would be discussed on Monday.

Mr. Maden distributed copies of a letter which he and Miss McIntyre had written to the student body officers and newspaper editors on the campuses of State System institutions. The letter describes the work of the Board, some of the issues which the Board considers, and indicates the student members of the Board.

The meeting was adjourned at 11:30 A.M.

SUPPLEMENT A - Traffic and Parking Regulations for State System Institutions
Eastern Oregon State College

PARKING AND VEHICULAR PARKING REGULATIONS
1974-75

Campus parking and vehicular traffic regulations are designed to minimize congestion, maintain safety, enhance security, and maximize the use of existing parking facilities.

"The Board of Higher Education is empowered under ORS 352.360 and ORS 351.070 to enact such regulations as it shall deem convenient or necessary to provide for the policing, control and regulation of traffic and parking of vehicles on the property of any institution under the jurisdiction of the Board," and to "prescribe and collect charges for services rendered to any person or entity." The fees and charges are set at levels sufficient to support fully annual operating expenses of maintaining parking facilities and to meet obligations for bonded indebtedness incurred for the acquisition of property and/or the construction of parking facilities.

Oregon State Police, the Union County Sheriff, and the La Grande City Police are authorized to issue citations for violations of vehicular traffic regulations occurring anywhere within approved campus boundaries. If a citation is issued by one of these enforcement agencies, the person cited should pay the fee or appear at the time and place stated on the citation. The College exercises no authority or responsibility over these actions.

All signs and curb markings will meet established State standards.

RESERVED PARKING, which requires a permit, is available to students, faculty, and staff of Eastern Oregon State College on a "first come, first served" basis. Permits can be purchased annually in the Business Office beginning September 1 of each year. The permit allows the holder to park weekdays in a designated reserved parking area between 7 AM and 5 PM. Any vehicle may park free after 5 PM on weekends. (See exception under VISITOR PARKING.) All parking permits expire August 30.

Reserved parking areas and fees are listed below:

Visitors Parking is located as follows:

1. West of Administration Building
2. South of Hoke College Center
3. West of the DCE Building (1308 K Avenue).

The area south of the Classroom Building is closed to everyone except visiting team buses, visiting college and high school authorities, or athletic event officials.

30-MINUTE PARKING for business purposes in the Bookstore is located immediately south of Hoke College Center.

FREE PARKING (not requiring permit) is available on city-owned and college-owned streets—K Avenue, J Avenue and G Avenue between 6th and 7th Streets, 7th Street between K Avenue and L Avenue, and G Avenue from 6th Street to the Cemetery. All on-campus parking is free after 5 PM daily and anytime on weekends, except areas posted "No Parking."

Parked and locked bicycles must be in a rack supplied for that purpose adjacent to an instructional building or residence hall.

STATE VEHICLES may park in all reserved, free, and visitor parking areas.
CITATIONS will be issued to faculty, staff, students, and visitors of Eastern Oregon State College for the following violations:

1. Parking (without reserved or temporary parking permit) an automobile, motorcycle or motorbike in a reserved parking area.
2. Parking a vehicle in a no parking area.
3. Parking a student-, faculty-, or staff-owned vehicle in a visitor parking area.

7. Parking first and second car simultaneously in any reserved parking area.
8. Parking and/or chaining a bicycle in unauthorized areas.

Violators are directed by means of the citation to pay a fine at the Business Office in the Administration Building. Appeals may be directed in person to the Director of Business Affairs.

FINES for parking and related violations are as follows:

$5.00, reduced to $3.00 if paid within two (2) working days after citation is issued.

Cost of violation may be applied toward purchase of annual RESERVED PARKING permit.

Fines are payable to the Cashier in the Business Office. Repeated or flagrant violations of campus parking regulations may result in banning of the vehicle from the campus.

The College assumes no responsibility for damage to or loss of vehicles or their contents parked within the campus boundaries.

Vehicle owners are urged to notify the Oregon State Motor Vehicle Division of any change of address within 30 days after occurrence. The nearest Motor Vehicle Division office is located on Highway 62 between La Grande and Island City.

Approved: July 30, 1974
I. RESPONSIBILITY IN TRAFFIC CONTROL

The regulations may also be enforced by the impoundment of vehicles [or bicycles], and a reasonable fee may be enacted [charged] for the cost of the impoundment and storage, if any, prior to the release of the vehicles [or bicycles] to their owners, as provided in sub-section 4 of O.R.S. 352.360.

f. The regulations governing traffic control may, by authority of the Traffic Commission and with approval of the State Board of Higher Education, be changed or altered (temporarily or permanently) whenever it is deemed to be beneficial to the public interest. The regulations are enforceable at all times including vacation periods by authorized Security Officers.

All motor vehicle laws of the State of Oregon and City of Ashland, including specifically, but not by way of limitation, ORS Chapters 403, 482, 484, 485, and 486, together with amendments hereafter adopted, are applicable and enforceable on the Campus of Southern Oregon College to the same extent as if this campus and its streets were public highways.

Regulations Governing the Use of Motor Vehicles

Authority to Establish Motor Vehicle Regulations

Authority to establish regulations governing the use of all motor vehicles on the Oregon State University (OSU) campus is derived from Oregon Statutes and action of the Oregon State Board of Higher Education pursuant to such statutes. The rules and regulations published herein were approved by the Office of the Chancellor and are filed with the Secretary of State in accordance with the provisions of ORS 183.310 to 183.500. Strict enforcement of these regulations is necessary to maintain safety on campus streets, reduce congestion, improve security, and effectively utilize parking facilities.

Application of Motor Vehicle Laws of the State of Oregon and City of Corvallis

All motor vehicle laws and ordinances of the State of Oregon and the City of Corvallis specifically including, but not limited to, ORS Chapters 481, 482, 483, 484, 485, and 486 together with adopted amendments are applicable to the campus of OSU to the same extent as if the campus and its streets are public highways. All provisions of the above motor vehicle laws are applicable and enforceable except as they conflict or are inconsistent with these regulations.

1. Definitions

For the purpose of these regulations:

a. The word "parked" means any vehicle which is stopped and/or waiting, regardless of the period of time the vehicle is stopped or whether a driver is present, except for vehicles immobilized by traffic control, congestion, or accident.

b. The word "motor vehicle" or "vehicle" means any type of motor-powered conveyance including, but not limited to, automobiles, trucks, motorcycles, and motor scooters.

c. The central campus is defined as that area legally reached via the Information Centers.

d. The word "weekday" is defined as Monday through Friday.

2. Vehicle Parking Permits

a. All faculty, staff, and students who have motor vehicles in their possession or control for use on the OSU campus and parking areas must display a current vehicle parking permit. Use of university streets, lanes, or parking areas without a properly displayed current OSU parking permit can result in a citation and a $5 fine.

b. Eligible persons who obtain permits must attach them to the vehicle for which they are designated. The vehicle must be owned by, or in the possession of, the permit purchaser.

c. Purchased permits for automobiles must be permanently affixed to the left side of the front and rear bumpers. Permits for motorcycles and motor scooters must be affixed on the left side of the vehicle in a readily visible place. All expired permits must be removed or covered. If a vehicle is disposed of, permits must first be removed.

d. Student permits normally shall be purchased during academic registration. Faculty, staff, and students unable to obtain permits during academic registration may obtain permits from the Traffic Office, Room B 006, Administrative Services Building, phone 754-2583.

3. Driver Responsibility

a. All persons operating motor vehicles on campus are responsible for knowing and adhering to the regulations stated herein. The regulations are enforced at all times.
b. The responsibility for locating a legal parking space rests with the operator of the motor vehicle. Lack of space is not a valid excuse for violating any OSU parking regulation.

c. In the event of conflict between signs or markings and printed regulations, the signs or markings shall be followed.

d. OSU is not responsible for any vehicle or its contents parked on OSU property or environs. Individuals assume all risk of accident and property loss, personal injury, and property damage.

These regulations should be made known to any person who is operating the vehicle on the University of Oregon campus.

ARTICLE I

Authority to Establish Regulations

Authority to establish regulations governing the use of motor vehicles on the University of Oregon campus for visitors, faculty, staff, and students is derived from Oregon statutes ORS 351.900 and 352.990, as amended, and by action of the Oregon State Board of Higher Education pursuant of such statutes. The rules and regulations have been approved by the Office of the State Board of Higher Education and were subsequently filed with the Secretary of State in accordance with the provisions of ORS Chapter 183. Strict enforcement of regulations governing the use of motor vehicles on campus is imperative in order to remove as much congestion as possible, to keep a margin of safety and to utilize the existing parking facilities at maximum.

All motor vehicle laws of the State of Oregon, including specifically, but not by way of limitation, Chapters 481, 482, 483, 664, 665, and 466, together with amendments hereafter adopted, are applicable to the campus of the University of Oregon to the same extent as if this campus and its streets were public highways, and all provisions of said motor vehicle laws are applicable and enforceable.
